WILLIAM A. HAMILTON HOUSE

1227 South 6th Street

1898-1975

For 77 years, the William A Hamilton house has been one of Terre Haute's most outstanding homes. It was built in 1898 of brown-stone, clapboard and shingle construction. Architecturally, the house is classified as "shingle style" or "Queen Anne" and expresses both classical and mediaeval motifs. The complex roof design with broad gables spanning the front and sides, coupled with a projecting oriel window on the second-story front and a circular tower capped by a conical tower at the northeast corner, together emphasize the mediaeval character of this splendid mansion. On the interior, adjacent to a large foyer, is a massive staircase lighted by a handsome Palladian window. An archway accented by a tall keystone leads directly from the foyer to the dining room where you will view a sweeping bowed window and a tiled fireplace surrounded by a high mantle supported by narrow mahogany ionic columns. Two additional fireplaces are found in the home, one with a delicately carved Federal-style mantle in the living room and a smaller one in a second-story bedroom. The spacious solarium and veranda are additional features of interest.

The original owners, the Hamiltons, purchased the plot where they built their handsome family home in 1891 from Mr. John Watson. The following year, the Hamiltons and three sons moved to Terre Haute from Pennsylvania. Mr. Hamilton joined partnerships with the Doak, Riddle, and Hamilton Insurance and Real Estate Agency as Vice President.

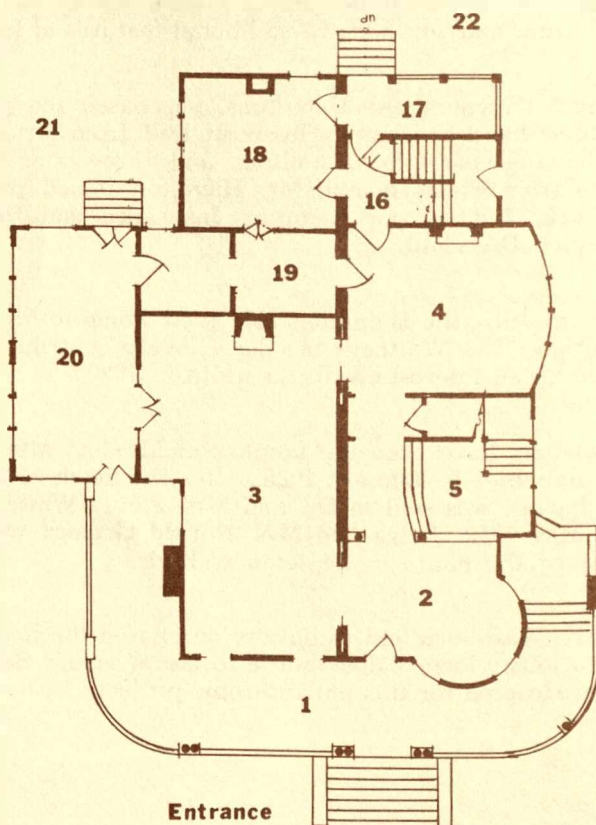

In January 1915, the Hamiltons sold their home to Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Whitney. The Whitneys made a lovely contribution to the home by adding an interesting tile solarium in 1920.

Other owners have been the families of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Arnold and daughter in January 1925. After the death of Mrs. Anita Arnold the home was sold to Dr. and Mrs. James White and four children in May 1952. Judge and Mrs. Ronald Grenert with their 2 sons, purchased the house in September, 1964.

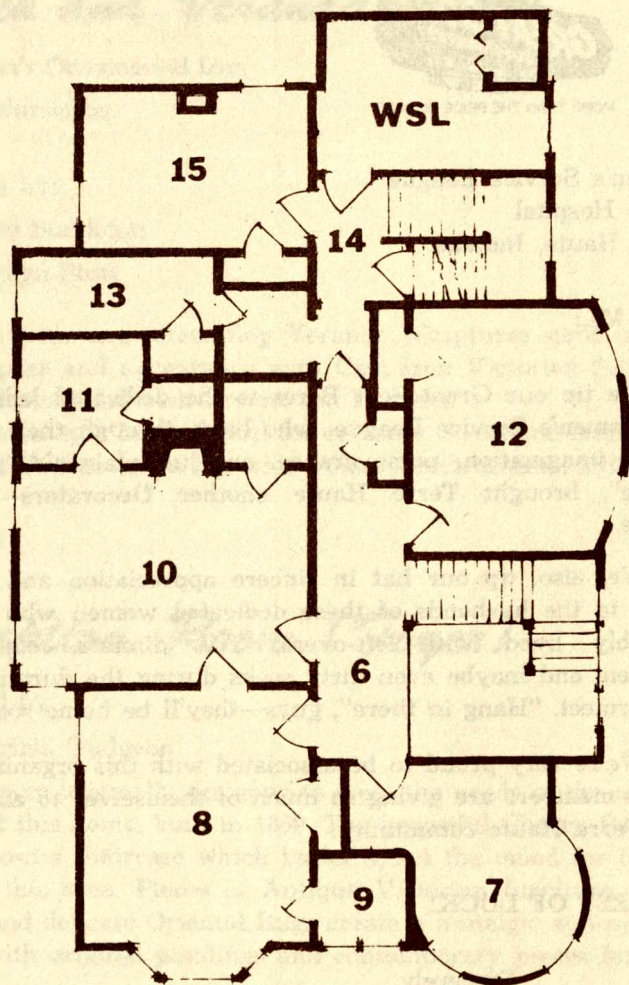

Mrs. J. K. Washburn and daughters purchased the home in 1973 and have graciously loaned their house to the Women's Service League of Union Hospital for this philanthropic project.

MORE THAN THE PRICE IS RIGHT

Women's Service League
Union Hospital
Terre Haute, Indiana

Dear Ms.:

We tip our Great Scot Beret to the dedicated ladies of the Women's Service League, who have, through their dedication, imagination, perseverance, and just plain old "elbow grease", brought Terre Haute another Decorators Show House.

We, also, tip our hat in sincere appreciation and sympathy to the husbands of these dedicated women who have probably lived with left-overs, T.V. dinners, confused children, and maybe even dirty socks during the duration of this project. "Hang in there", guys—they'll be home soon!

We're very proud to be associated with this organization whose members are giving so much of themselves to aid our fine Terre Haute community.

BEST OF LUCK!

Sincerely,

GREAT SCOT SUPERMARKETS

A room originally designed to meet the needs of the more formal living of this home, built in 1890. The beautiful Cherry Paneling, and the imposing Staircase which backs it, set the mood for the furnishings of this area. Pieces of Antique Victorian furniture, and accessories, and delicate Oriental Rugs create a nostalgic atmosphere, combined with original paintings and contemporary pieces for added interest.

Elegant Informality

In keeping with the architecture of this residence, it is essential that the living room have a degree of dignity, but since it is also a home, it is important that it have a relaxed atmosphere.

We have tried to incorporate the warmth and charm of traditionally styled furniture, the elegance of silver and crystal accessories, and the use of a bold floral print fabric to set the tempo for this colorful approach to elegant informality.

A TOUCH OF BOLD. . . is provided by the colorful floral print used in the window treatments and wall panels.

A TOUCH OF ELEGANCE. . . is found in the use of velvets and satin-striped upholsteries and the ample use of silver and crystal accessories.

A TOUCH OF PLUSH. . . is the thick, lush emerald green plush carpeting. . . which repeats one of the predominant colors of the floral print. We feel the yellow-green color scheme helps achieve our feeling of elegant informality. And, no matter what the weather outside may be, this room will be alive with sunshine and flowers!

The main objective was to decorate in neutral tones. The plush short shag carpeting brings out the elegance of the cherrywood. Further use of neutral tones on the walls greatly enhances the magnificent leaded glass windows and the crystal chandelier. Tasteful accessories, including the family wall concept, and ferns and greens complete the grand staircase.

The Tower Guest Room may also be used by the family as a quiet reading nook, for letter writing, or a place to have the second cup of coffee on a sunny spring morning.

Architecturally interesting with bent glass windows and unusual floor plan, this was an interesting room to decorate. For covering the round wall we have used a brown and white pucker stripe fabric which gives surface interest. All other fabrics used in the room repeat one of the pucker prints.

A painted parsons table can be used as a desk, breakfast table or a game place for the children. Two victorian bentwood chairs complement the area. For reading or needlework, we have selected a country French pull-up chair. A yellow accent floor lamp lights the area; there is a covered side table close at hand.

The unattractive radiator has been concealed with more fabric which in effect becomes part of the bed treatment.

Accessories and greenery are an integral final touch in the second floor tower room.

"Victorian Nostalgia" A Dressing Area and Bath

designed by:

Laney Meis

The opulence of the Victorian Era is recaptured in this bath, designed for elegance—as well as the contemporary lifestyle.

A deep burgundy wallcovering in the dressing area and bath is reminiscent of the large floral designs so favored during the 1800's.

The unique moulded wash basin and tile trim are interesting "originals" restored to their former charm; and the footed tub and exposed pipes help set the decorating motif.

Our window treatment allows sunlight to warm the room and highlight the brass accessories and lighting fixtures, as well as nurture the living plants.

Plush gold towels and marvelous carpeting enhance and reflect the warm richness of the rooms.

Cherished antiques and "women's particulars" finish our attempt at recreating a bit of "Victorian Nostalgia" for you.

A Country Sophisticate Kitchen

SMITH ALSOP PAINTS

630 N. Third St.

designed by:

Trudy Hinkle NSID
630 N. 3rd St.

Peggy Emmert NSID
Honey Creek Square

The rusticity of the copper and gold decor was achieved by the use of the well designed wall covering, titled Rural Route #16.

Antiques, natural woods, and accessories add warmth which complements and blends with the metallic richness of the room.

A touch of the unusual is achieved by the use of the copper mylar on the ceiling and contrasted by the textorial interests of the gold and rust plaid carpeting and woven shades of walnut and cinnamon hues.

Garden Terrace

Bunch Nurseries, Inc.

3500 Hulman Street

Terre Haute, Indiana

designed by:

Harold N. Timmer

The patio garden is designed to provide a quiet spot for gardening relaxation close to the house and at the same time to provide a pleasant transition from the house to the garage and service area and other parts of the yard.

An evergreen wall for privacy encloses a brick patio with sufficient area for simple, low-maintenance flower gardens close at hand. Use of Spring bulbs, early flowering shrubs and broad-leaf evergreens extends the season of pleasure to the entire year. The use of multiple trunk trees of contrasting bark is in keeping with the scale of the garden area and adds additional contrast and interest.

Planting beds are enclosed with natural limestone and rustic timber to keep the motif low-key and earthy. A touch of permanency and stability is added by the use of a few boulders. Low voltage lighting has been added to give a new dimension to the garden during the evening hours.
